arose early noted a decided drop in the temperature from the day before, and as the morning hours wore on the temperature dropped further and the mist that hung over the land disappeared somewhat. Cold and crisp, the atmosphere was just suited for a football battle, and gave to the players the necessary energy to work hard.

In spite of the score that was piled up by the Red and Black in the first half, there was hard fighting all the way through. When the game first up stronger than any other point is that Carolina was woefully weak on recovering punts and handling those of her opponents. In this respect the Davidson eleven was so far superior that the game was practically won by Davidson's fine work in going down the field after the kicks and landing on to the ball on nearly every occasion. Davidson's ends, especially Kluttz, were on the job in this respect, and time after time they recovered punts for long gains. Not only were the ends

he said. "They did not get into the game until the second half. In the first half the blocked kick that resulted in a touchdown for Davidson seemed to get our team out of the running, but later on the boys buckled down remarkably. With an even break of luck in the first half we would have done much better."

It is the general impression that if the University boys had had more confidence in themselves in the first half they would have held Davidson to a closer score, if not made it a 0 to 0 contest. That was a wonderful reversal of form in the second half, and the Garnet and Black seemed to have taken a determination between halves to do or die. They certainly went after Davidson's great second half, which was mighty gains for Davidson in that part of a struggle. The second half saw the Carolina boys doing better also on the field punts

The Davidson team won the football game from the University of South Carolina eleven yesterday at the fair grounds in the first half, 22 points being scored as a result of four touchdowns and two goals. In the second half the Garnet and Black buckled down to work and held their opponents to a 0-0 contest for the remainder of the game. The reversal of form by the local team was a feature of the game, and showed that the University eleven was not outclassed as much as many persons imagined.

With the winning of the game against Carolina, Coach Levine's heroes have two games to their credit in as many days, which is quite a record. With the exception of Peden and Clark, the Red and Black began the game with the same lineup as was put against the Clemson Tigers the day before. However, before the end of the second half seven men had been substituted on the Davidson squad.

The day was ideal for a football contest, and as a result the attendance was swelled considerably and there was much more enjoyment in witnessing the game and in taking part in it. Just the day before the ground at the athletic field was wet and soggy from continuous rains of two days' duration. Yesterday morning those who started Davidson was able to make consistent gains through the line and on forward passes. Especially in the latter was Davidson successful in the first half of the game. A somewhat unusual occurrence was the scoring of a touchdown by means of a forward pass—Elliott to Kluttz—in this half.

Carolina was off in the use of the forward pass, and was several times penalized or lost the ball in failures to make this play succeed. It was expected by many that this would be a very potent factor in Carolina's offensive work. As a matter of fact, the Garnet and Black was able to gain more on the halfback plays over tackle. The line opened up good sized holes here, and by hard bucks against their opponents' line and good interference, there were a number of gains in this style of play.

LOSS OF PUNTS.

One of the game that looms

good in this respect, but other players on the Red and Black side were about as good in recovering the ball on punts. On receiving punts Davidson was good also, her men being able to catch the ball.

Coach Levine, of the Davidson team, seemed to be pleased yesterday after the game with the showing made by his team against Clemson and Carolina. "Considering the fact that several of our men were injured in other games," he said, "and that hard fight with Virginia, our team did well enough. I believe they played 100 per cent. better than the day before." This speaks well for the University team, showing that the Carolina eleven put up a mighty fight against their opponents.

Coach Christie Benet was well satisfied with the result of the game under the circumstances. "I believe the boys played as hard a game as they could,"

had put them to the bad in the first half.

Davidson was penalized two or three times for holding, and each time cost her 15 yards. Referee Butler is an official who believes in sticking closely to the rules and seeing that they are enforced, and that he knows the rules of the game was shown out on the field yesterday. The rule against holding provides against the illegal use of hands, and as a result the Davidson team suffered several penalties.

KICK BLOCKED.

The two teams were a little late in coming out on the field, and it was the noon hour before the referee's whistle announced to the spectators that the contest was on. The stands were well filled and there was a good crowd on the side lines, about 3,000 persons altogether being in attendance. On one side of the grandstand the Clemson cadet corps was seated, and the Clemson band played during the game. On the sidelines the game recalled previous contests on the gridiron. State fair. There were several persons and Carolina sponsor decked with colors, with girls and boys out with and colors. Of course, black was in the and black.
