Alumni Hold Annual Meet On Saturday
Expect Many Alumni Luncheon At Hotel Columbia And Football Game To Be On Program

Final preparations have been concluded for the homecoming day which will be celebrated tomorrow, according to B. A. Early, alumni secretary.

More than 300 old graduates from all over South Carolina and various parts of the country have registered and made this the biggest homecoming ever held here.

Many of the alumni will return to the university this week to take part in the homecoming celebration. Others are expected to arrive on Saturday and they are eager to see other big features of the occasion, the Greenwood Stadium, of the literary society celebration, the alumni luncheon and the football game.

The luncheon will be held Hotel Columbia at 11:15 tomorrow morning. Guest speaker for the meeting will be President of the University and George T. Baker, chairman of the alumni association will make the main address.

The luncheon is expected to be continued for a full day and those attending it will go to the fair grounds where the football game will be played. Other offices of the association are expected to appear at this event.

The games are expected to start on Saturday morning with the first game to be played by the Columbia College football team. Following this will be the Columbia and the University, the last entry of the day.

An invitation has been extended to the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the South Carolina Football Association held in Columbia November 3rd to address the colleges from the state of South Carolina where the occasion has not yet been accepted. Officers of the Association are confident that the governor will stipulate in some way.

Plans are rapidly going forward to make of the Columbia afternoon on November 3rd a day of uniting those interested in the University's athletic activities.

A special two-hour oration after the Columbia on December 3rd and 4th during the annual meeting of the University and the football, the best ever held at Columbia, and prominent speakers are to address the meetings of its delegates on subjects bearing on the editing and publishing of college papers and magazines.
